

MEDIA RELEASE

15-02-2021

Headlines:

- COVID Boom - How a busy Mum used lockdown to create a music app startup
- Who needs a garage? Local app startup aims to connect musicians from around the world
- Starting with a bang! Get a chance to win $250,000 by uploading a piece of music to local music app startup
- Local Mum creates a music collaboration startup to help musicians adapt to an uncertain future

Story:

Kingscliff NSW.

- Jessica Dalziell has spent lockdown working on a music collaboration startup to help musicians adapt to an uncertain future.
- Imagine a virtual garage band where your drummer may be in London, your bass player in Brazil and your drummer in South Africa.

General About (from app listing):

- Make music with anyone from anywhere. The ultimate music collaboration app!
- Sound House Music is a platform which allows musicians from anywhere in the world to find each other and collaborate in a song focused format.
- To inspire global creativity we are introducing musicians to each other at massive scale. We want to keep the music community connected in these crazy times. So jump on and give it a go.

The Competition:

- Upload a piece of original music to the Sound House collaboration platform for the chance to win $250,000!
- Entries close on the 16/04/2021
- Find out more information on the website - <https://soundhousemusic.com/songcomp/>